Special voting procedures, as well as protocols for the counting of votes and the timely announcement of results, were also reviewed.

9. CONDUCT OF THE POLL

9.1 Special Voting

Of the one million, one hundred and fifty-three thousand, eight hundred and seventy-five (1,153,875) individuals eligible to vote, a total of sixteen thousand, seven hundred and forty-two (16,742) persons applied for and were granted approval to be treated as special electors. This total represents 1.45% of the electorate.

Voting by Special Electors commenced, as scheduled, on Monday 21st April, 2025 at the offices of the respective Returning Officers, while similar activity began on Tuesday 22nd April, 2025 at the Special Polling Stations established by the Commission for that purpose. All qualified persons who turned out to cast their ballot during the special voting period were able to do so without incident.

Out of the sixteen thousand, seven hundred and forty-two (16,742) approved special electors, twelve thousand, eight hundred and thirty-seven (12,837) individuals cast their votes, representing 76.68% of the total special electors for this election. Further details on the turnout for special electors can be found at Appendix VII.

9.2 Voting on Poll Day

On poll day, Monday 28th April, 2025, voting commenced as scheduled; there were no major incidents which negatively impacted the voting process. Election Day went as anticipated and all persons wishing to exercise their franchise were able to do so in the stipulated time.

As is customary, Members of the Commission were deployed across the islands on poll day in order to monitor operations at polling stations. They reported that the casting of ballots and the counting of votes were incident free. Generally, the Commission was satisfied that poll day arrangements enabled the electorate to exercise their franchise freely and fairly.

9.3 Interim Statement – Commonwealth Observer Group

The Commonwealth Observer Group praised the overall organization of the elections and commended key stakeholders, including poll day staff, political parties, police, the media and the staff of the Elections and Boundaries Commission for their respective roles in ensuring the successful conduct of the elections.

The group highlighted the presence of information desk officers and clear signage at polling stations as positive innovations. Additionally, the Commission was commended for its partnership with the Consortium of Disability Organisations (CODO) to enhance assistive voting for persons with disabilities.

However, the group called for urgent action on campaign finance reform to ensure fairness among candidates, echoing a recommendation made in 2015. Furthermore, concerns were raised about the disproportionate coverage of the governing party by the state media. In this regard the group recommended legislation to enforce equitable access to state media for all candidates and political parties and suggested that all political parties adhere to the Code of Political Conduct which does “not permit the use and abuse of state resources for political campaigns”.

In concluding, the group emphasized the need to rebuild public confidence in democratic institutions and address low youth voter turnout. The group therefore suggested extending voter education efforts to strengthen civil society participation in electoral processes, including as citizen observers.

9.4 Preliminary Statement – CARICOM Election Observation Mission

The CARICOM Election Observation Mission noted in its Preliminary Statement dated 29th April, 2025 that pre-poll and opening procedures were properly followed. Polls opened on time, stations were well-staffed, and materials were adequately supplied. The Mission noted that most stations were accessible and well-located, though a few posed challenges for the elderly and persons with disabilities.

The Mission also found that voting was peaceful, orderly, and well-managed, with minimal queues and clear signage. Security was found to be sufficient, and polling officials deemed to have acted professionally and were helpful, particularly to vulnerable groups. Voters were observed to be able to cast their ballots freely and without intimidation.

The Mission concluded that the election results reflect the will of the people and commended poll workers; the political parties and their candidates; stakeholders; the security forces; the voters; and the staff of the Elections and Boundaries Commission; for their mature and organized conduct on poll day.
